POSLAM EXCELS IN CONQUERING

That results should show overnight is a great deal to expect of any skin Remedy—except Poslam. But Poslam differs from all other remedies in possessing healing energy in a more concentrated and more active form.

That is the reason why in stubborn Ecsema it shortens the time of treatment and drives away many minor troubles before they become serious.

It is a pacifying balm to angry irritated surfaces.

His "Washerwoman" is a faithful treatment of the open air washing that is practised in France. The river serves as the source of water supply, and the laundrying is admirably shown in process on the bank in the foreground. The attitudes are unstudied but full of life and action. The community heating is accomplished by the bricked-up stoves with periscopic elbow terminals.

rouse interest and please, in the seven fold recorded sketches.

"The Vinters, Chinon," is another excellent example of virility, as in-corporated into etching. The two figures in the foreground, showing vineyard laborers pushing a cart, are superhity executed.

The People's Art Guild is giving its twenty-sixth exhibition at the For-ward Building, No. 175 East Broad-way, for an indeterminate period. The catalogue contains nearly 300 numbers, and the showing is a most unsual one, since unions are booking fit fine and you'll only wish you had special days.

isual one, since unions are booking special days.

It is a very hopeful sign when art invades the east side and the idea of upilit is so nicely worked out.

The east siders are by no means unresponsive, and the missionary work done by the sponsors and the Ladies' Reception Committee was not done in vain, for the residents of the Ghetto are patronizing the exhibition and are themselves aiding in their own upilit, as far as in them lies.

Art in life is always a good thing, and art on the east side makes more of an appeal than you might think if all you know of this bit of the foreign language district of New York consists of a waik through Orchard Street or a shopping tour on Avenue A.

Whether the art that is now being served up to the visitors at the Forward Building in large chunks is all of the highest type is not the question. The show at least makes it possible for the dweller in the seething east side tenement or apartment to see art, and that counts for some nst side tenement or apartment to artists who are pursuing the ignis fatuus of the fourth dimension have been permitted to participate in the exhibition; they have been given a chance to demonstrate their wares, and the east siders may here see and and the sast siders may here see and study both static and dynamic art. They may observe futurism and the academic, the conservative and the revolutionary, side by side, as in the Independent Show, and out of the melting pot of art there is very little doubt but that good may come.

Most of the exhibited pictures have been above at least once, and some been shown at least once, and some of them many times, but it is not for any one to cavil at the catalogue

There is rather need for rejoicing that those of our friends and neigh-bors on the east side can be jured away from commercialism and at-
